New web conferences for Autumn/Winter 2011/2012

A-level Economics Feedback on AS/A2 Web conferences

In our new web conferences, Stuart Luker (AS) and Alain Anderton (A2) give clear guidance about how to improve students' performance and the teaching strategies that really make a difference in the classroom.

There will be separate web conferences for AS and A2 units.

Our web conferences are online interactive sessions where you can

- key in questions for presenters
- participate in typed 'chat' sessions
- take part in polling activities.

This web conference is relevant for all teachers of A-level Economics irrespective of specification or examination board.

The presenter will focus on:

- key knowledge and skills that candidates demonstrated well/ less well in the summer 2011 examinations
- appraisal of student responses at different levels
- bridging the gap: how to improve student performance
- tips on good examination practice and technique.

You can share the web conference with colleagues via whiteboard at no extra cost.
